
Contents

Prologue xiii

Contributors xxi

Acknowledgments xxv

PART I THE QUALITATIVE PERSPECTIVE 1

1 The Landscape of Qualitative Research in Nursing 3

Patricia L. Munhall

The Irreducible You 4

The Irreducible Whole 5

The Situated Context 6

Broadening the Landscape 9

Seeking Truth 11

Other Disciplines' Methods 12

The Sands of Science 12

The Problem with Generalizations 15

Putting This "Thus Far" Together Qualitatively 17

Understanding the Other: The Third Ear 22

Underpinning Qualitative Research 25

A Cautionary Tale 27

Postscript 30

References 31

Additional Resources 31

- 2 Language and Nursing Research: The Evolution 33
Patricia L. Munhall
- Language and Lived Experience 35
 - Language as Points of Contact 38
 - The Context of Nursing Research 38
 - Transition in Worldviews of Nursing 39
 - The Language of Worldviews 41
 - Early Preparation of Nurse Researchers 47
 - Deduction and Derivation from Theories: From Then to Now 49
 - A Transition: Nursing Worldviews, Nursing Researchers, and Theory Development 53
 - Language and Comprehensibility 59
 - Summary 61
 - References 61
 - Additional Resources 64
 - Endnotes 67
- 3 Epistemology in Nursing 69
Patricia L. Munhall
- Paths to Knowledge 72
 - Purpose of Science 75
 - Paradigms and Research Traditions 77
 - Epistemological Interests of Nursing 79
 - Epistemological Commitments to Qualitative Research 83
 - An Epistemological Circle: Circle and Re-Circle 85
 - What I Did Not Know 86
 - Calling Generalizations Into Question 86
 - Summary 87
 - References 88
 - Additional Resources 89
 - Endnotes 94
- 4 Postmodern Philosophy and Qualitative Research 95
Joy Longo and Lynne M. Dunphy
- Postmodernism 96
 - Critical Social Theory 97
 - Feminist Approaches as Part of the Postmodern Enterprise 102

An Emancipatory Agenda for Healthcare Delivery	103
Applying Postmodern Philosophies to Research	104
References	107

PART II QUALITATIVE METHODS AND EXEMPLARS 111

5 A Phenomenological Method 113 Patricia L. Munhall

To Think Phenomenologically	113
Researching a Phenomenologic Method	117
Phenomenological Research Immersion	122
How to Accomplish the Step of Immersion in an Actual Study	132
Researcher in Interaction	154
Our Hope for Understanding	170
References	171
Additional Resources	172
Endnotes	175

6 Exemplar: In the Eye of the Storm: A Phenomenological Inquiry of the Parallel Experience of Victims of Katrina and Nurses Who Cared for Them: Exemplar of Linguistic Transformation in Phenomenology and Exemplar of Longitudinal Phenomenology 177 Sarah Steen Lauterbach and Deborah L. Frank

Acknowledgments	177
Abstract	178
Introduction	179
Thematic Findings by Frank and Sullivan	181
Retrospective Reflection on Findings	182
Linguistic Narrative Construction	189
Discussion	197
Epilogue	197
Summary and Reflection on Practice	200
References	202

7	Exemplar: Grief Interrupted: The Experience of Loss Among Incarcerated Women	205
	Holly M. Harner, Patricia Hentz, and Maria Carmela Evangelista; Corresponding Author: Holly M. Harner
	Evolution of the Study	206
	Justification and Significance	207
	Review of the Literature	207
	Loss and Grief Among Incarcerated Women	209
	Phenomenological Perspective	210
	Methods	210
	Data Analysis	212
	Findings	212
	Discussion	218
	Acknowledgments	221
	Author's Note	221
	Declaration of Conflicting Interest	221
	Finding	222
	References	222
8	Grounded Theory: The Method	225
	Judith Wuest
	Grounded Theory: The Method	225
	Philosophical Underpinning of Grounded Theory	227
	Grounded Theory Approach	229
	Where Does Grounded Theory Fit in the Paradigm Debate?	248
	Final Words	252
	References	253
	Endnotes	256
9	Exemplar: Teetering on the Edge: A Second Grounded Theory Modification	257
	Cheryl Tatano Beck
	Background	257
	Research Design	263
	Results of the Second Modification	263
	Discussion	278
	Summarizing	279
	References	280
	Endnotes	284

- 10 Ethnography: The Method 285
Zane Robinson Wolf
 Traditional Ethnography 285
 Disrupted Ethnography 296
 Purposes and Research Questions 297
 Ethnographic Methods 298
 Analysis 314
 Interpretation 318
 Findings of Ethnographic Studies 318
 Rigor, or Scientific Adequacy, of Ethnographies 320
 Reflexivity 321
 Conclusion 322
 References 335
- 11 Exemplar: War Stories: Frontline Reports of the Daily Experiences of Low-Income, Urban, Black Mothers 339
Roberta Cricco-Lizza
 Background 339
 Method 341
 Findings 344
 Discussion 353
 Conclusion and Implications 355
 References 356
 Endnotes 358
- 12 Case Study: The Method 359
Patricia Hentz
 Case Study Research: What It Is and What It Is Not 360
 Characteristics of Qualitative Case Study Research 361
 Points of Interest: Intrinsic, Instrumental, and Multiple Case Study 362
 Five Types of Single Case Study Designs 363
 Multiple Case Study Design 365
 Case Study Designs: Descriptive, Exploratory, Explanatory 365
 Qualitative Case Study Research: Components of the Research Design 368
 Conclusion 368
 References 369

- 13 Exemplar: The Body Grieves 371
Patricia Hentz
Introduction 371
Phenomenological Perspective 372
Evolution of the Study 372
Justification of the Study 373
Review of the Literature 373
Method 374
Ethical Considerations 375
Remembering My Mother: The Body Grieves 376
Body Memory: Relived as Lived 377
Conclusion 378
References 378
- 14 Historical Research 381
Karen Saucier Lundy
Definition of Terms 384
Stages in Historical Research Design 384
Types of Historical Research 389
Reliability and Validity 390
Data Analysis 391
Standards for Evaluating Historical Research 391
Future Trends in Historical Research 393
Summary 394
References 394
Resources 397
- 15 History Exemplar: More Than Good Kind Angels: Exploring the Value of Nursing Service 399
Marcella M. Rutherford
Method 400
The Story of the Arrival of the Daughters of Charity in Jacksonville 402
Themes Identified in the Sisters' Story 407
Research Findings 414
Conclusion 416
References 417

- 16 Narrative Inquiry: The Method 421
Maureen Duffy
 Questions as Sources of Data and Analysis 423
 Can There Be a Life Without a Story? 424
 The Structure of Narrative 425
 Steps in the Narrative Research Process 426
 Concluding Comments 438
 References 439
- 17 Exemplar: Narrative Analysis: The Effects on Student Learning 441
Paul Gallant
 Introduction to Narrative and Narrative Research 441
 Why This Research Is Important 442
 Research Question(s) 444
 Research Design 445
 Research Method 446
 Implications 452
 References 453
- 18 Action Research: The Methodologies 455
Ronald J. Chenail, Sally St. George, Dan Wulff, and Robin Cooper
 The Family of Action Research Methodologies 457
 Working Inside and Outside of Traditional Qualitative Parameters 458
 Phases of Action Research 460
 Evaluating Action Research 465
 Challenges 466
 References 467
- 19 Exemplar: “I’ve Waited for Something Like This All My Life”: PAR and Persons with Intellectual Disabilities 471
Rita M. Valade
 The PAR Experience 472
 Initial Design 472
 Phase One 474

Transition Between Phase One and Phase Two	478
Phase Two	478
The Group and Our Action	480
Conclusion	487
References	487
Endnotes	488

PART III INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL CONSIDERATIONS IN QUALITATIVE RESEARCH 489

20 Ethical Considerations in Qualitative Research 491

Patricia L. Munhall

Underlying Assumptions and Dilemmas	492
Ethical Aims and Means	492
Therapeutic Versus Research Imperative	494
Is Being a Collaborator a Means to an End?	495
Informed Consent in Qualitative Research	496
Process Consent	496
Secrets	497
Findings and Publication	497
Conflict Methodology	498
Models of Fieldwork	499
Summary Remarks	500
References	500
Resources	501
Endnotes	502

21 Institutional Review of the Qualitative Research Proposals: A Task of No Small Consequence 503

Patricia L. Munhall

Placing the Task in Context	503
The Setting	504
The Challenges	504
Meeting the Challenges	506
Similarities Between Qualitative and Quantitative Proposals	508
Presenting to the IRB	513
Conclusion	514
References	514
Resources	514
Endnotes	515

- 22 Evaluation of Qualitative Research 517
Marlene C. Mackey
 Early Evaluation Criteria 518
 Later Evaluation Criteria 519
 Revising/Emerging Evaluation Criteria 520
 Evaluation Criteria for Phenomenological Research 523
 Evaluation Criteria for Grounded Theory Research 524
 EPICURE: An Evaluation Agenda 526
 Application of Qualitative Health Research 526
 Metasynthesis for Evidence-Based Practice 528
 Conclusions 528
 References 529
- 23 Evidence-Based Nursing and Qualitative Research: A Partnership Imperative for Real-World Practice 533
Patti Rager Zuzelo
 EBN and Qualitative Research: Fundamental Issues and Concerns 534
 Why Use Qualitative Methods for Evidence-Based Practice? 537
 The Shortcomings of EBP: Lack of Standardization and a Positivistic Stance 539
 How Does the Evidence Debate Affect Real-World Practice? 541
 The Barriers to Including Qualitative Study Findings in EBN Efforts 542
 The Contributions of Qualitative Approaches to EBN 545
 Conclusion 550
 References 550
- 24 Simultaneous and Sequential Qualitative Mixed-Method Designs 553
Janice M. Morse
 Simultaneous and Sequential Qualitative Mixed-Method Designs 553
 What Is a Mixed-Method Design? 554
 What Are the Characteristics of a QUAL-qual Mixed-Method Design? 555

Within-Paradigm Data/Analytic Incompatibilities 557
QUAL+/ \rightarrow qual Mixed-Method Designs 559
Methodological Issues for Qualitative
Mixed-Method Designs 562
Contextualizing Qualitatively Driven Designs 563
Conclusions 568
References 568
Endnotes 569

25 *Combining Qualitative and Quantitative
Methods for Mixed-Method Designs* 571

Janice M. Morse and Linda Niehaus

Terminology and Considerations for Conducting
Mixed-Method Research 572
Process of Conducting Mixed-Method Research 577
Discussion 583
References 583
Endnotes 584

Epilogue: In Coming to an Open Closing 585
Patricia L. Munhall

Index 589